

Doux Visage

Eastern Acupuncture Meets Western Modern Technology

The first Malaysian company that uses a combination of eastern and western technology for total body wellness treatments, Doux Visage treats a myriad of issues from acne to the side effects of stroke with immediate and long-lasting effects.

The three most popular treatments provided are V-shape face treatments, acupuncture and phyto-hormones with all treatments combining Western treatment or products for a comprehensive healing process.

Founder Dr Jenny Goh said, "We offer customised treatments to each and every customer. These treatments work best upon proper consultation on a case-to-case basis."

V-shape face treatments, she said, stimulates adenosine triphosphate (ATP) which is known as the main energy source for cell regeneration. The intensive anti-ageing treatment also has scar healing properties with results showing from just one treatment session. "However, results varies and depends on each customer," she added.

As for phyto-hormone treatments, it can be used to treat those suffering from pre-menstrual cramps (PMS), depression, replenishing or activating estrogen receptors in the body, menopausal problems as well as obesity. A non-invasive treatment, Goh said a cream containing vitex agnus castus (VAC) is massaged onto the skin to "wake-up the hormones."

Goh added that the company has been able to treat varying health issues with acupuncture and this includes depression. She said, "The unique thing about TCM (Traditional Chinese Medicine) is that it works with our Central Nervous System(CNS). It is about what is going on internally. If your internal condition is bad, then what is the point of external beauty, which is only temporary? That is our belief. With this knowledge, we aim to treat our clients from the inside out – finding the root problem within and addressing the issue directly so that the healing will be visible on the outside too. By applying our standards and beliefs into our practice, we have time and time again seen positive effects, affirming that our focus should remain on an inside-out restoration process."

Goh, who has a degree in TCM and a Masters degree in Acupuncture has over 21 years of experience in the health and beauty industry. She also has a PhD in Acupuncture at the Guangzhou University of Chinese Medicine, specialising in cardiovascular disease, stroke, cancer treatment and the endocrine system.

Her extensive knowledge, expertise and an experienced team of staff has led to Doux Visage bagging the Most Promising Award at the Star Outstanding Business Awards (SOBA) 2017 recently. The award recognises Doux Visage's potential for growth in terms of financial status, effort and impactful contribution to society as well as unique and creative business. The company's methodology has paved way for a client base that has been increasing exponentially and enabled the company to extend from a single shop with 1,600 square feet to two shop lots on the ground floor expanding the centre to 3,520 square feet.

Your Satisfaction, Our Assurance!

She said, "The human body is a very intricate and unique system and in some ways, functions much like an 'engine'. Tailor made alternative treatments are required because humans change too. As you grow into a teenager, your skin begins to form acne as your body changes and matures. As you grow older as a woman, you will begin to develop hormonal imbalances and your body's needs would change as well. We strongly believe that our body's requirements vary at different stages of our lives, no two bodies are the same and there is no one standard treatment for everyone. Hence, we consult and custom make treatments for all our clients at Doux Visage."

At the end of the day, Goh states results are her priority. "We believe that our services come first and each treatment will speak for itself upon viewing the results."
